Response to Amendment

The Examiner respectfully submits a response to the amendment received on 1/4/2005 of application no. 09/825,739 filed on 4/3/2001 in which claims 1-7, and 9-16 are currently pending.

Drawings

The Examiner thanks the Applicant for correcting the drawings.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Loui et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 6,606,411) in view of Vailaya ("Content-based Hierarchical Classification of Vacation Images").

Regarding claim 14, Loui discloses classifying images having date and/or time of image capture into events; and analyzing the images within each event by content for grouping the images of similar content together (col. 3, lines 1-6). Loui further discloses a method of categorizing files of non-textual data comprising the steps of: establishing an evaluation system for decision making, including using automated processing techniques to define a plurality of algorithms, the algorithms utilizing both of content-based data and meta-data, the content-based data corresponding to content information of a file of the non-textual data and the meta-data corresponding to data-capturing settings of a data-capturing device (time) during capture of the file of non-textual data (Fig. 1, s20 and s30); and capturing a file of non-textual subject data (Fig. 1, Images).

Loui does not disclose processing the file of non-textual subject data through the evaluation system for decision making to selectively identify a plurality of classifiers associated with the file of non-textual subject data, said evaluation system including a progression of decisional nodes configured to invoke said algorithms so as to selectively identify said plurality of classifiers; and enabling utilization of said plurality of classifiers identified by said evaluation system for decision making to implement searches for said file via query matching.

However, Vailaya discloses that a set of vacation images (interpreted as an event because the images are captured over a particular time period) may be further grouped into a hierarchical semantic classification based on the content of each image (Fig. 1). One of ordinary skill in the art would have provided the hierarchical semantic classification method in order to further group images of an event (e.g., a vacation) into semantically meaningful classes (Fig. 1). As a result, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention have processed the file of non-textual subject data through the evaluation system for decision making to selectively identify a plurality of classifiers associated with the file of non-textual subject data, said evaluation system including a progression of decisional nodes configured to invoke said algorithms so as to selectively identify said plurality of classifiers (Fig. 1) in order to further group images of an event (e.g., a vacation) into semantically meaningful classes.

Furthermore, Vailaya discloses enabling utilization of said plurality of classifiers identified by said evaluation system for decision making to implement searches for said file via query matching (pg. 518, col. 2, par 1).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-13, and 15-16 are allowable or would be allowable if rewritten to overcome any and all objections.

Regarding claim 1, the reason for allowance is as follows: the prior art does not disclose or fairly suggest a method for classifying blocks of data comprising the steps of assigning description to contents of said block, including utilizing said meta-data in determining said description by operations within a progression of decisional nodes, in combination with all other limitations of the claim.

Regarding claim 9, the reason for allowance is as follows: the prior art does not disclose or fairly suggest a system for classifying subject data comprising utilizing both said non-textual subject data and said meta-data for identifying at least one classifier, wherein the meta-data is specific to an operational mode of said recording device during capture; and implementing searches via query matching to the identified classifiers.

Regarding claim 15, the reason for allowance is as follows: the prior art does not disclose or fairly suggest said meta-data is identified for each said learning image, said

meta-data for each said learning image being indicative of operational conditions of said data-capturing device.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
